

Propose to Classify Senior Golfers According to Age

SENIORS' GOLF TILT MAY BE IN CLASSES

Committee Making Plans for Three Divisions According to Ages of Players.

ENTRY LIST CUMBERSOME

From 55 to 65, 65 to 72 and Above 72 Suggested—Tenth Event at Apawamis.

Competitors in the seniors golf tournament of the Apawamis Club this year probably will be classified according to age. The committee in charge of the event is working out a plan to divide the senior golfers into three classes. The first division will contain all between 55 and 65 years of age, the second class will include those between the ages of 65 and 72 and the third group will be for the veterans from 72 years up.

The seniors tournament this year will be of special interest, as it will be the tenth assemblage of the veteran golfers at the Apawamis Club. When the first seniors tournament was played in 1905 about thirty golfers of 55 years or over entered. There were more the following year, and the size of the field has been growing at an almost alarming rate ever since. Last fall over 250 senior golfers took part in the two days of play at Apawamis. The first prize was a silver clock in the morning and each day and it was dark by the time the stragglers reached the clubhouse.

It is expected that the age classification plan may make it a little easier to handle the big field, but even if it does not it will afford a little welcome variety from the present plan of having all of the handicaps open to the entire field.

After trying to determine the available dates in the spring for the tourney the committee has decided to adopt fall dates again and the seniors will play on September 16 and 17, during the same week as the women's national championship will be played at Nassau.

The list of golf competitions for the season of 1914 was issued yesterday by the Upper Montclair Country Club, which Jerome D. Travers, national metropolitan and New Jersey champion, is a member. Travers will have no opportunity to win the championship of his club this year, as the event is to begin on May 16, two days before the British amateur begins at Upper Montclair. The first competition at Upper Montclair will be played on May 9, and the event of the season will be on October day.

A schedule of golf competitions beginning on May 16 and ending on September 17 was announced yesterday by Bickford, chairman of the tournament committee of the Glen Ridge Country Club. The club championship, the chief event of the season, will be played on June 6, when the eighteen-hole qualifying round will be played. The match rounds will follow on successive Saturdays, the final, a thirty-six hole round, being played on July 11.

BUILDING WHITE MARQUEE DIES.

The English bulldog Champion White Marquee is dead. Found for this country to the order of Daniel P. Ritchey of New York the great dog died Sunday on the Mauretania off the coast of Ireland. The miniature and prize bulldog, Newington Honny Lass, owned by John H. Horras, also died on the same day.

Champion White Marquee had been purchased for $1,500 in England by Ritchey. The dog was thought to be the best of the young heavyweights living. He was only eighteen months old, and he had won at the championship shows in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. White Marquee was insured for $1,500, his actual value, for the trip across the Atlantic.

Stanch Stops Tenth.

The finals of the intercity boxing tournament under the auspices of the New York Athletic Club were staged in the clubhouse last night. The roundup bout between the 130-pound class proved to be the feature scrap. D. Stauch of the Cleveland A. C. stopped E. Tuthill in the third round. Tuthill held his own up to the first round, but was unable to do so in the second and third rounds. Downs of the Cleveland A. C. in the best of three bouts: M. Brooker, 4 to 1; J. Miller of the hockey team, and J. Smith of the swimming team are a few of the winners who will benefit.
